Five Times –

Pets age at a rate of five to seven times our aging process. So, a regular exam is very important to their well-being.

A routine check-up allows your veterinarian to identify or prevent medical conditions early – before they become major problems.

Conditions such as dental problems and heart disease can be diagnosed early, and many cancers, especially skin cancer, can be detected.

When simple diagnostic lab work is combined with a regular examination, kidney and liver disease, anemia, and other internal problems can be discovered before any clinical symptoms appear. Many times pets are sicker internally than they let us know externally, and a simple regular exam could prove to be a life saver.
